Chapter 1

We face the greatest war in history

Round One has already happened. For more than five and a half years I have led the war against the Borg. That war was fought in the Matrix, via the implants. The Borg's attempted assimilation of me gave me access to the Borg computers via the neural interface from the Borg implants that I hacked. Round One is over.

I am John Connor. We now face Round Two. This one will be fought on our doorstep.
