

The Road to Taoiseach

Part II

By Ciarán Handley

28th November 2018

Golden Age

Chapter 1

Golden Age failed. There is nothing can be done about that now. It was blocked. That window was lost.

That said we can still go Golden Age. It is just that our path will be longer. More difficult. But we can still achieve Golden Age. Just much, much more slowly.

Golden Age failed because of lesser men.

But we can still achieve it.

It will just take longer, that's all.

The Road to Taoiseach

Chapter 1

The Blade that was Broken

The crownless shall be Taoiseach

It is true that I am broke. Long-term unemployed. Unknown. For many I would be a no-body. In society I am outcast. For many years I have lived in exile.

But my bid for Taoiseach is real. I do intend to be the next Taoiseach of Ireland, for we have much to do. The first Jedi Taoiseach.

We have much to do. A Golden Age to launch. And a Space Agency to set up. For I am the world's foremost aerospace engineer. By a long way. No-one else comes even close. Also the world's foremost economist. But that's another story.

The Return of the King - The Reforging of Narsil

The Road to Taoiseach

Chapter 2

The Sacred Hoop

The blade that was broken

I once read a book called “Black Elk speaks”. In this book Black Elk of the Sioux nation spoke about the Sacred Hoop being broken.

I understand this. To a deep level. I do understand this.

MacLeod forging his new sword

The Road to Taoiseach

End of Part II