The Road to Taoiseach

Chapter 1

Premier Ministre Philippe de la République Française

Prime Minister Philippe, in the mid 1990s you watched a film in a cinema in Châtelet les Halles

That film was called Crying Freeman. To your left two Irish guys were also watching the film. At a point in the film a young teenager stood in the aisle and starting doing some “karate” moves and making hiyah! “karate” sounds.

You picked up a sense of irritation from one of the Irish guys at the film being disturbed by this teenager, although nothing was said. I am that Irish guy, Prime Minister Philippe.

Chapter 2

Premier Ministre Philippe de la République Française

If you are interested in the aerospace technologies that I wrote of, Prime Minister Philippe, then France must contact me this day

The offer ends this day, in which case this second window for Golden Age is lost.
