The Day the Earth Stood Still

Chapter 1

Humanity stands on the brink of annihilation

Either we break the stranglehold of those who block Golden Age or the annihilation of humanity by the Borg is an absolute certainty. This is certainty.

In order to try to break the stranglehold, which comes primarily from America – those who blocked Golden Age and put us into this position in the first place, we now stand on the brink of nuclear war.

Nuclear war would kill many, many people. However it would break America's collaboration with the Small Greys which would free the Resistance to take the actions necessary to avoid the annihilation of all life by the Borg.

Better to lose millions, even billions in nuclear war than to lose all life on Earth.

There have been two assassination attempts on me by governments since I wrote about the need to force the hand of the collaborators with the threat of nuclear war

One was that assassination attempt from England that I wrote about. The other was an assassination attempt last night from America. What the collaborators have not taken properly into account is that if I fall humanity falls with me. I am the only one with the knowledge to meet the threat of the Borg. I am the only one with the knowledge to survive this upcoming annihilation. Just as I am the only one with the knowledge to launch Golden Age. And the only one with the knowledge to trigger Ascension.

If I fall then humanity falls with me. Tell that to Theresa May and to General Mark Milley.

We are almost out of time

If we do not break the hold of the collaborators and provide at least a path to Golden Age then we face certainty of Annihilation. America have chosen to ignore the threat of nuclear war. They would rather face the threat of nuclear war than break their alliance with the Small Greys and allow Golden Age to be triggered to whatever level it is possible to salvage it.

Time is almost up. We cannot delay much longer. Either the stranglehold is broken or I will have no choice but to force the situation. America and humanity stand on the brink of nuclear war, for I will go to nuclear war rather than lose all life on Earth.

Please, wake up! We're almost out of time.

It's only on the brink that people find the will to change
