The Peacemaker

Chapter 1

In 2014 a nuclear warhead, which had been stored by Islamic fundamentalists in the Islamic Centre in Clonskeagh, Dublin, Ireland, made its way to London

It was me who took out the terrorist and who tipped off the SAS so that they could retrieve the warhead. Former Prime Minister Cameron of Britain knows that the warhead was stored in Clonskeagh. He knows because it was me who sent him the information on this after the incident in London in 2014.

In 2013 a rogue nuclear warhead was on a countdown timer in a major American city. It was me who disabled that warhead remotely and who tipped off the American police so that they could retrieve the warhead. Just as it was me who blocked the warhead in America in 2014 and tipped off a fireman who was able to alert the police. The reason American cities are not a pile of radioactive dust now is because of me. And not just American cities. These incidents are known to the Pentagon. The Pentagon knew of them and still ordered my assassination anyway.

The Pentagon codenames me Neo

Within ten days of finding out that there was someone with my abilities I was a higher priority than Bin Laden. This was back in 2007. I have been the most wanted man on Earth ever since, although my identity has been hidden until very recently. The Pentagon can't have it both ways. They can't expect my help when it suits them and then try to kill me and steal my research when they want to line their own pockets.

I will say disgrace. An absolute fucking disgrace.

*How can one live without honour?
Never have I understood this.*

Lesser men. Golden Age failed because of lesser men. Shadows of men.

Disgrace!

*Honour is important to those who have honour.
It is considered unimportant to those who have none.*

*The Pentagon targeted me simply because I displayed
X-Man abilities*

They knew I was a friend to America.

They just didn't give a shit.

There is an entire X-Files section in the Pentagon dedicated just to me. I have been the most wanted person on Earth for over a decade, although only a handful of people have known of me.

Until now.

It was America who blocked Golden Age. Golden Age, the most significant event in history, should have kicked off in 2013. It was blocked by America's repeated attempts to kill me.

Which knocks America out of Golden Age. Indefinitely.

America is in disgrace. The country most responsible for blocking Golden Age.

Disgrace!
